but he's still Frank, a dad, a granddad, a friend to Bill the cat. So when he receives a phone call from Los Angeles with news that his grown-up daughter's life is falling apart, his natural instinct is to drop everything to be with her. Unfortunately for Frank, that means using his life savings and putting himself in danger of losing his home. But then Frank's never been one for long-term plans. He can sort out where he and Bill the cat will live when he's back.

So Frank gets on a plane for the first time in his life. He was never much good at helping his daughter through crises when she was growing up. He left all that to his wife, Sheila, who died nearly ten years ago. Now it's time to step up to his role of father to Beth, joined by forces with his determined granddaughter Laura. They begin the reunion project in an attempt to bring some happiness back into Beth's life and to bring the family back together again.

For one happy family holiday filled with moments of great sadness, joy, and humour, Frank Derrick's holiday of a lifetime reminds us all to make the most of every day and to appreciate those closest to us. A lifetime of regrets is a true story about a young girl named C.J. who begins her life on a military base in Kansas then moves to Nebraska where her mother is from. From sphere soon tires of city life and yearns to go back to his roots in Missouri. She finds some land in Southeast Missouri and moves his family there to begin a new life in the country. C.J. takes you back through all her childhood memories and adventures she went through growing up. She finds out life is not as innocent and carefree as before her school years become difficult to deal with as she tries to cope with her deformity and insecurities after school. She jumps right into the work force and discovers herself in a world of free love and promiscuity. She searches through life for the one man who can give her the love she so desperately needs. As she looks for the life she thinks she wants, she runs head on with one disaster after another. Her addictive behaviors eventually take her to a dark and evil world. Her mistakes lead her to nothing but sadness and shame. She struggles to break free from it and regain her Christian life. Back this book is about things that happen in a small town that do not normally get talked about and as a senior citizen of sixty-one years old, Stephanie has not had the courage to face her weaknesses but instead succumbs to them. Will this be detrimental to her quiet life as she has known it for forty-five years and will she survive the heartbreak that is ahead of her when I became visually impaired and coming to terms with blindness? I thank my late husband, my family, friends, and colleagues for being there in my darkest hours encouraging me to keep on keeping on and for my sighted friends for helping me put my words into print. This memoir is about the lifetime experiences of the authors who grew up in the 50s and 60s and have been happily married for 54 years. They raised two children and have 5 grandchildren. The stories go beyond their immediate family to include extended ancestors. In case of its release, the book a lifetime of memories truly shares a lifetime of memories. Trudie Meier Gavette was born and raised on a farm in Salem, Oregon during the Great Depression. On December 25, 1925, her mom and dad were born in Switzerland but met for the first time at a dairy farm in Salem, Oregon. She has an older sister, Mert, and of course, they all spoke Swiss and learned English together. She still speaks and writes it. They were a musical family. Her dad played the piano, and mom was an excellent seamstress. She started performing at an early age singing English and Swiss songs and dancing. They entertained at C.C. Campe's Ymca and after learning tap dancing, they performed every Saturday afternoon at the Elsinore Theater in Salem, Oregon for several years after she graduated from Salem high school. She became a cadet nurse at Emmanuel Hospital during World War II. It was there she composed her first poem about the dreadful war. It was not until 1957 that she started composing again. It was for her mom and dad's anniversary. The store cards just did not say what she wanted them to say. So she composed one herself and has never bought a store card since. She has composed over 1000 poems for every occasion. The words she needs come to her between two and four in the morning. When she wakes up with thoughts in her mind, she gets up and puts a few words down on paper to complete. When she gets up about the author Gavette has three wonderful children who mean the world to her. Judi, John, and Troy. She plans to...
Gen Richards is done being the helpless blind girl resurrecting her high school bucket list that begins with kiss a total stranger seems just the thing until she finds herself in a panty melting lip lock with her big brother’s adrenaline junky best friend. Chance Anderson thrives on adrenaline but Genny’s the one risk he won’t take. His recklessness a decade ago landed her in the hospital and ejected him from her life. He’s bad for her and everyone knows it, especially her big brother. Chance reluctantly helps Genny complete her bucket list in order to keep her out of trouble but running through a freezing fountain playing spin the bottle while fending off a mad horde of stinging insects and skinny dipping with homicidal attack swans don’t hold a candle to the real danger falling for the one person he can never have. Each book in the Anderson brothers series is a standalone full-length story that can be enjoyed out of order. Series order: Book 1: Sleeping with the Boss. Book 2: Neighbors with Benefits. Book 3: Chance of a Lifetime. This book is about coincidences that have happened in my life that affected the American public and cities being changed forever once we left to important buildings being raised. These are just a few incidents that can be remembered sayings such as rip off or under the bus are identified and repeated often. Songs of the fifties could be traced to my experiences to have been created by God to be able to withstand the trauma of losing a family member is a tribute to the wisdom of our creator. He has given us the tenacity to go on beyond the grief and sorrow we have the capacity to continue our lives with renewed knowledge and confidence in Him that innate ability allows us to be able to continue in a resource of hope. This hope is that catalyst we use to grow from despair to greater anticipation and expectation as adults we must remember the impact of losing a loved one and realize that children also carry a pain that is just as real as our own loss. Can carry with it a force that can be detrimental to their future growth and development as well. When we realize this we can see the need to be as attentive and as sensitive to their needs in grief and sorrow as we would be to adults. In this story, Margie’s aunt Clara loves the fact that Margie looks and acts so much as she did at her age. An added bonus is that her own daughter Gloria who is close in age has a sister-sister relationship with Margie that has developed over the years. Aunt Clara feels that she has been blessed with two wonderful daughters that create happiness in her life. Then Margie hears that an old illness of Aunt Clara’s has resurfaced and she is almost devastated. Much of who she now is is a direct result of the time she has spent and wisdom she has gained from Aunt Clara. Can Margie continue on with her life of vibrancy and stability? We find out through the assistance of another friend, Ms. Winn, who is widowed in a lifetime of memories. Life’s experiences poetry expressing where the author lived and worked and traveled the people he met and his experiences. This book is written with the highlights of the author’s life bringing out the many times God has performed miracles in his life. God has and is performing miracles today. Putting God first is important part of life and by doing so he will supply your needs and more. In this book, you will read of personal experiences where God saved this author’s life from danger as a law enforcement officer and has saved him from sickness to include death as he left his body while having a heart attack and the hospital called a code blue that many employees witnessed as he was returned to his body although life changed after the near death experience he gives God the glory and praise spending most of his time telling what Jesus has done for him. The reason for this book is that maybe one person could read it and realize that there is a God and seek out their own salvation and accept Jesus into their life through the Holy Ghost and be baptized in his wonderful name. Rene Descartes stated “I think therefore I am.” John would say “I am therefore I think.” This unique book of poetry is Johnas’s response to his life experiences in which he reflects on the life of a son, husband, father, grandfather, athlete, student, leader, business manager, Christian church leader, citizen of America, and the world teacher and avid reader and is his response to his relationships with the remarkable people he has been privileged to know. Authentic writing is profoundly autobiographical. Eugene Clemens, professor of religious studies for 35 years shares a lifetime of writing through this anthology. Half a lifetime is a passionate and honest autobiography by one of Australia’s greatest living writers. In her steely sensuous prose, Judith Wright recounts the vanished pastoral world she grew up in. She tells the story of her growth as a woman and poet as lover and mother and she describes her emerging commitment to the environment the rights of Aboriginal people, and the possibility of leading a just and responsible life. This luminous book includes a number of Wright’s best loved poems and many evocative family photographs. This publication is not for sale to libraries. Kenny’s Department Store is the jewel in the Irish town of Ardagh’s crown. My grandpa, soon to be 98 years old is an anomaly of sorts.
this attribute which leaves him somewhat undefinable is actually revealing and telling of his personality in his quirkiness there is reason and in his elusiveness there is explanation in this book i share his affect on me with you at times that affect provokes laughter and at other times anguish i wrote this book because grandpa s story or my story about him should be told while he is still alive on this earth there was something inside of me beckoning me to write this book about him what started out as a passing fancy turned into a need to illuminate the man behind this long lived life we all want a purpose in our lives and mine for a year and a half was to get to the inner core of my grandpa s being and to share that with you i hope i have done him justice enjoy the story my poems throughout my journey fate was a blessing when a dream brought lyle into my life and it is only with writing this book and reading his letters that i fully realize the depth of his being and his love for me i heard this on a news program on marriage it is rewarding to know someone has been a witness to your life i am that witness to lyles life our song will endure through eternity i hope that in reading this you will appreciate the soft heart humor intelligence and love that was lyle the love he had for his family animals and creation he was a man of integrity and fine character and a good listener the mark of a man is how a man lives his life and my husband was that man a good man who had a great mother and father a different perspective on the patient protection and affordable care act provides a brief history of health insurance within the united states offering an accessible perspective on the highly contentious patient protection and affordable care act ppaca this book traces the political and financial conditions that led to the enactment of the affordable care act thoroughly researched a different perspective on the patient protection and affordable care act details the drastic increase of health care expenditures in both state legislatures and the federal government the fiscal strain experienced throughout the nation and the main objectives of president barack obama s 2010 healthcare reform plan this book is about how one can in a lifetime experience the world as directly as possible it is a practical matter travel takes time and money the earth is a big place and one must be selective about what one sees and how one travels for us travel has been a lifetime progression starting with student budgets then building on corporate travel and progressing to less accessible locales as we became seniors we were more limited in physical adventure but more able to experience upscale lodgings and to engage local experts each of these stages afforded its own viewpoint and enriched the experience of the accessible world beyond having enjoyed the great journey ourselves we have shared it both with children and grandchildren the stories as told by daniel just read it

A Lifetime of Miracles 2013-04-25 Fate was a blessing when a dream brought Lyle into my life. Once more he was forty-six years old and had never married. It had been eighteen years since we’d seen each other. I was almost forty-two with three adult children and two ready to graduate high school. It is only once in a lifetime that a person is lucky enough to have true love. I had that with Lyle and it is only with writing this book and reading his letters that I fully realize the depth of his being and his love for me. I heard this on a news program on marriage. It is rewarding to know someone has been a witness to your life. I am that witness to Lyle’s life. Our song will endure through eternity. I hope that in reading this you will appreciate the soft heart, humor, intelligence, and love that was Lyle’s love. He had a love for his family, animals, and creation. He was a man of integrity and fine character. A good listener, the mark of a man is how a man lives his life. My husband was that man. I was grateful. I had a great mother and father.

A Lifetime of Living 2007-05 A different perspective on the patient protection and affordable care act provides a brief history of health insurance within the United States offering an accessible perspective on the highly contentious patient protection and affordable care act. This book traces the political and financial conditions that led to the enactment of the affordable care act. Thoroughly researched, this book details the drastic increase of health care expenditures in both state legislatures and the federal government. The fiscal strain experienced throughout the nation and the main objectives of President Barack Obama’s 2010 healthcare reform plan.

A Lifetime of Writing: An Anthology 2016-08-15 This book is about how one can in a lifetime experience the world as directly as possible. It is a practical matter. Travel takes time and money. The earth is a big place and one must be selective about what one sees and how one travels. For us, travel has been a lifetime progression starting with student budgets then building on corporate travel and progressing to less accessible locales as we became seniors. We were more limited in physical adventure but more able to experience upscale lodgings and to engage local experts. Each of these stages afforded its own viewpoint and enriched the experience of the accessible world beyond having enjoyed the great journey ourselves. We have shared it both with children and grandchildren.
