The Medex Northwest Physician Assistant program was created at the University of Washington in 1968 as one of the nation's first physician assistant (PA) programs. It's a joint project of the Washington State Medical Association and the University of Washington School of Medicine. Medex was designed to meet the needs of overworked physicians in rural communities as envisioned by Medex founder Dr. Richard A. Smith. Physician assistants were created by physicians for physicians. Initially, all Medex students were former military corpsmen returning from Vietnam based on their extensive clinical experience, they were well accepted by doctors and their patients. Dr. Richard Smith was a former Peace Corps physician and leader of the federal project to desegregate the US hospital system as a requirement for Medicare reimbursement. Dr. Smith's founding principles for Medex included a collaborative model for community and practitioner involvement. The framework for the Medex program throughout its 45-year history emphasizes physician assistant clinics. The clinics series aims to provide an authoritative and continuously updated clinical information resource that covers all of the relevant PA specialties. Our clinical review articles address the key points: diagnosis, prognosis, clinical management, and complications of disease and techniques. Evidence and controversies in the field information for quick reference as well as in-depth coverage of a topic is a hallmark of the Clinics series. This issue of Physician Assistant Clinics is devoted to oncology and is edited by Alexandria Garino, MS, PA-C of Yale School of Medicine Physician Associate Program. Articles in this issue include nutrition in cancer care, primary care of the cancer survivor, oncologic emergencies, advances in lung cancer, new pharmaceutical agents in oncology, ethical considerations in oncology, high dose chemotherapy, stem cell rescue, management of graft versus host disease, breast cancer, colon cancer, gynecologic cancer, oncology related side effects, and improving access to care. The PA MD team prepares for every stage of your physician assistant career with Physician Assistant A Guide to Clinical Practice 5th edition. This one text that takes you from your PA coursework through clinical practice. It's concise, easy to read, and highly visual. This all-in-one resource by Ruth Ballweg, Edward M. Sullivan
