precipitating the meteoric rise of a global collaborative commons and the eclipse of capitalism rifkin uncovers a paradox at the heart of capitalism that has propelled it to greatness but is now taking it to its death the inherent entrepreneurial dynamism of competitive markets that drives productivity up and marginal costs down enabling businesses to reduce the price of their goods and services in order to win over consumers and market share marginal cost is the cost of producing additional units of a good or service if fixed costs are not counted while economists have always welcomed a reduction in marginal cost they never anticipated the possibility of a technological revolution that might bring marginal costs to near zero making goods and services pricelessly nearly free and abundant and no longer subject to market forces now a formidable new technology infrastructure the internet of things iot is emerging with the potential of pushing large segments of economic Remote sensing of the terrestrial water cycle is an outcome of the AGU Chapman Conference held in February 2012. This is a comprehensive volume that examines the use of available remote sensing satellite data as well as data from future missions that can be used to expand our knowledge in quantifying the spatial and temporal variations in the terrestrial water cycle. Volume highlights include an in-depth discussion of the global water cycle approaches to various problems in climate weather hydrology and agriculture. Applications of satellite remote sensing in measuring precipitation, surface water, snow, soil moisture, groundwater modeling, and data assimilation. A description of the use of satellite data for accurately estimating and monitoring the components of the hydrological cycle. discussion of the measurement of multiple geophysical variables and properties over different landscapes on a temporal and a regional scale remote sensing of the terrestrial water cycle is a valuable resource for students and research professionals in the hydrology ecology atmospheric sciences geography and geological sciences communities these proceedings represent the work of contributors to the 22nd European Conference on E-Learning (ECEL 2023) hosted by the University of South Africa, Pretoria, South Africa, on 26-27 October 2023. The conference co-chairs, Associate Professor Sarah Jane Johnston and Associate Professor Shawren Singh of the University of South Africa, Pretoria, South Africa, ECEL is now a well-established event on the academic research calendar and now in its 22nd year. The key aim remains the opportunity for participants to share ideas and meet the people who hold them. The scope of papers will ensure an interesting two days. The subjects covered illustrate the wide range of topics that fall into this important and ever-growing area of research. It is especially relevant that the conference is being hosted by the University of South Africa this year as the university celebrates its 150th anniversary. The conference will also host the final round of the 9th E-Learning Excellence Awards, where innovate case histories will be presented. The opening keynote presentation is given by Professor Thenjiwe Meyiwa, Vice Principal for Research, Postgraduate Studies, Innovation, and Commercialisation at the University of South Africa, who will speak on the role of African feminisms in shaping a sustainable future of being and learning. An afternoon keynote on Thursday will be made by Dr. Zolile Martin Mguda, University of South Africa, on the topic of ChatGPT. The first year the second day of the conference will open with an address by Dr. Isabel Tarling, MD, Limina South Africa, with the title Developing Digital Standards for Learning and Teaching in South Africa's Schools. With an initial submission of 100 abstracts after the double-blind peer review process, there are 45 academic research papers, 3 PhD research papers, and 1 Masters research paper published in these conference proceedings. These papers represent research from Belgium, Canada, Chile, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Ghana, Greece, Hong Kong, Ireland, Japan, Malaysia, Mozambique, Norway, Oman, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Singapore, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom.
