Safe and Sound: Inspirational Romantic Suspense 2019-02-11 five years ago connor s new bride hannah lost her way in a blizzard and the mountain claimed her when a woman s body is uncovered during a landslide connor learns his beloved was murdered and the man responsible goes on the run connor enlists the aid of his cousin a skip tracer to track down the killer and discovers the murderer has set his sights on another woman determined to save the woman from the same fate as his beloved wife. Connor has her brought to Haven and faces the second biggest shock of his life: the woman claims she’s Hannah, the murderer who sent Hannah Stratford on the run has tracked her down for years. She has lived off the identity of her lookalike best friend. Now the only way to stay alive is for Hannah to prove she didn’t die in a blizzard. Connor offers her safety and protection in his home but keeps his heart guarded from her. Hannah wants more than to save her life; she wants Connor back. How will her husband react once he learns she not only left on her own but hid her friend’s death to save herself? Can Hannah ever find true peace in her life or will she always be on the run?

Ruby Jane 2019-11-26: She loved and lost. Ruby Jane never thought she’d meet the man of her dreams while running from the police in Russia. That he’d steal her heart on a train to Siberia but loving a former CIA officer comes with a price: a life of danger, a life of high stakes, a life where he simply disappears. He has no memory of the man he was; Mack Jones has no memory of his past. Just the dark sense that he is hiding and he wants to stay that way. Mack likes the life he’s built in a small tourist town tucked away beyond the mountains and has no desire to dig around in the gray areas of his memory. When his place of business catches fire, Mack rescues the owner. He makes the news, which of course alerts the past. He’s hoping to outrun the only person who can help him is a mysterious woman he doesn’t remember but a woman he desperately needs. The surprising thrilling conclusion to the Montana Marshall series.

You Don’t Have to Be a Star 2016-06-16: So, yes, I am going to check on you now and again. Luke said. He glanced at her Kenzie. I admit, I had no idea what you went through until I talked with Greg. I’m sorry, and I’m going to make sure that no one hurts you. I promise. His gaze stayed on her and she couldn’t look away. His expression swept the moisture from her mouth. Stirred to life something inside she’d nearly forgotten and not just because his beautiful green eyes had a solidness in them. She felt to her soul. No, she couldn’t tear her eyes away because despite his protest to the contrary, she knew for the first time in longer than she could remember she had met a hero. A man who would keep his promise no matter what it cost him. Read the spin-off prequel of the Montana Fire series. Action drama adventure. Flawed individuals and emotional and spiritual challenges are hallmarks of Warren’s books. Christian Library Journal. An action heroine movie star looking for a place to hide finds more than she expects in the arms of a real-life hero. Mackenzie Grace wants more than her wanna-be action heroine role on the big screen but when she finds herself in the sights of a stalker, her real-life drama takes on epic movie proportions including her very own real life action hero. Former Green Beret Luke Alexander just wants to forget his past and mind his own business in the woods of East Tennessee and his park ranger job seems the solution until a diva movie star walks into his world looking for someplace to hide but the Cherokee Forest isn’t big enough for the both of them. If you include the trouble Mackenzie has dragged along behind her and soon she’s stirring up Luke’s own murky past. One out for revenge. Which trouble will find them first? Is it even possible to outrun your past and start over? Luke and Mackenzie are...
