cullman county was established in 1877 in large part from the west side of blount and the east side of winston counties today the few old cemeteries which existed in those counties in the early days are found within the borders of cullman the cemetery listings in this four volume set were conducted by the author beginning in 2003 and ending in early 2006 an attempt was made to personally visit every cemetery in cullman county and record information from each readable monument volume 3 of this series covers alphabetically cemeteries g through m beginning with the good hope baptist church cemetery and concluding with the mt vernon west baptist church cemetery the volumes are filled with photos of many of the old cemetery sites and notes describing the company and unit of most of the old civil war era veterans this set of books is vital to any serious student of cullman county genealogy and history
Longhorn beetles, cerambycidae, are one of the most easily recognised groups of beetles. A cosmopolitan family that encompasses more than 33,000 species in 5,200 genera worldwide. Out of the 117 beetle families occurring in Australia, cerambycidae is the sixth largest comprising more than 1,400 species classified in 300 genera. Virtually all cerambycidae feed on living or dead plant tissue and play a significant role in all terrestrial environments. Larvae often utilise damaged or dead trees for their development and through feeding on rotten wood form an important element of the saproxylic fauna. Speeding nutrient and energy circulation in these habitats, longhorn beetles can cause serious damage by sometimes feeding on and eventually killing living forest or orchard trees. Many species are listed as quarantine pests because of their destructive role to the timber industry. Such as the European house borer introduced into Western Australia. This third volume in the series on Australian longhorn beetles extends to include the taxonomy of genera and species of the subfamily prioninae of the Australo-Pacific region. Seven tribes, 50 genera, and 166 species are included. All genera and most species are diagnosed, described, illustrated, and included in keys to their identification.

The Intelcenter's Terrorism Incident Reference (TIR) series of books is designed to provide a professional level reference resource to intelligence analysts, operators, security professionals, researchers, and others working in the counterterrorism field. It provides a chronological breakout of all terrorist and rebel type activity between 2000-2007. The material for the series is drawn from Intelcenter's Weekly World's Terrorist Groups Intel Update (WTG IU) reports. Reporting is heavily focused on incident type activity such as bombings, shootings, kidnappings, etc., with some coverage of arrests, threats, and other developments. The data contained in each item represents an analyst's best assessment of the most accurate information based upon available source reporting at that point in time and their knowledge of the area and groups involved. These items are not simply abstracts. All source information for each item is listed below in brackets. It is important to understand that the TIR series is only a starting point. While every attempt is made to be as comprehensive as possible, variations in source coverage, source availability, volume of activity, and resource levels all impact the depth of coverage over time. Consequently, it may appear that attacks have increased during one period. This may simply be the result of additional press reporting, or it may be the result of a drop off in coverage or temporary loss of access to a source. When researching patterns of activity or any type of quantitative or frequency type analysis, the TIR is an excellent starting point but needs to be augmented with additional resources.
