heyday of life and one of the loveliest of the society women i have met though i have known her sisters several years i only met torfrida for the first time a few months ago when she was superintending the nursing of her mother who had just undergone an operation for appendicitis one day when i was visiting my convalescent friend torfrida informed me that she knew of a haunted house in edinburgh a case which she felt sure would arouse my interest and enthusiasm it is unfortunate she added somewhat regretfully that i cannot tell you the number of the house but as i have given my word of honour to disclose it to no one i feel sure you will excuse me indeed my friends the gordons who extracted the promise from me have got into sad trouble with their landlord for leaving the house under the pretext that it was haunted and he has threatened to prosecute them for slander of title the house in question has no claim to antiquity it may be eighty years old perhaps a little older and was at the time of which i speak let out in flats the gordons occupied the second storey the one above them was over a thousand pages of haunted and haunting ghost tales the most complete collection of uncanny spooky creepy tales ever published edited and with an introduction by otto penzler including stories by joyce carol oates rudyard kipling isaac asimov james maccreigh and many more featuring eerie vintage ghost illustrations the ghost story is perhaps the oldest of all the supernatural literary genres and has captured the imagination of almost every writer to put pen to the page here edgar award winning editor otto penzler has followed his keen sense of the supernatural to collect the most chilling and uncanny tales in the canon these spectral stories span more than a hundred years from modern day horrors by joyce carol oates chet williamson and andrew klavan to pulp yarns from august derleth greye la spina and m l humphreys to the atmospheric victorian tales of rudyard kipling edith wharton and h p lovecraft not to mention modern works by the likes of donald e westlake and isaac asimov that are already classics some of these stories have haunted the canon for a century while others are making their first ghoulish appearance in book form whether you prefer possessive poltergeists awful apparitions or friendly phantoms these stories are guaranteed to thrill you tingle the spine or tickle the funny bone and keep you turning the pages with fearful delight including such classics as the monkey’s paw and the eleanor f lewis the parlor car ghost ghost of buckstown inn by arnold m anderson the burglar s ghost a phantom toe mrs davenport s ghost by frederick p schrader the phantom woman the phantom hag from the tomb by guy de maupassant sandy s ghost the ghosts of red creek by s t the spectre bride how he caught the ghost grand dame s ghost story by c d a fight with a ghost by q e d colonel halifax s ghost story the ghost of the count the old mansion a misfit ghost an unbidden guest the dead woman s photograph the ghost of a live man the ghost of washington i do not know whether writing ghost stories is a mistake most readers will like a ghost story in which towards the end it is found that the ghost was really a cat or a dog or a mischievous boy such ghost stories are a source of pleasure and are read as a pastime and are often vastly enjoyed because though the reader is a bit afraid of what he does not know still he likes to be assured that ghosts do not in reality exist such ghost stories i have often myself read and enjoyed the last one i read was in the december 1913 number of the english illustrated magazine in that story coincidence follows coincidence in such beautiful succession that a young lady really believes that she sees a ghost and even feels its touch and finally it turns out that it is only a monkey this is bathos that unfortunately goes too far still i am sure english readers love a ghost story of this kind it however cannot be denied that particular incidents do sometimes happen in such a way that they take our breath away here is something to the point twenty years ago near honey grove in texas james ziegland a wealthy young farmer won the hand of metilda tichnor but jilted her a few days before the day fixed for the marriage twenty five ghost stories by w bob holland this collection of ghost stories owes its publication to an interest that i have long felt in the supernatural and in works of the imagination as a child i was deeply concerned in tales of spooks haunted houses wraiths and specters and stories of weird experiences clanking chains ghostly sights and gruesome sounds always held me spellbound and breathless experiences in editorial offices taught me that i was not alone in liking stories of mystery the desire to know something of that existence that is veiled by death is equally potent in old age and in youth and men women and children like to be thrilled and to have a creepy feeling along the spinal column as the result of reading of a visitor from beyond the grave this volume contains the most famous of the weird stories of edgar allan poe that master of this form of literature the black cat contains all the needed element of mystery and supernatural and yet the feline acts in a natural manner all of the time and the story is quite possibly true it is only in the manner of its 6 telling that the tale becomes one that fittingly finds its place in this collection guy de maupassant the clever frenchman is also represented by two effective bits of work and other less widely known writers have also contributed stories that are worth reading and when once read will be remembered there is not a story among the twenty five that is not worthy of close reading there has recently been a revival in interest in ghost stories many of the high class magazines have within a few months printed stories with supernatural incidents and writers whose names are known to all who read have turned their attention to this form of literature whether or not the reader believe in ghosts he cannot fail to be interested in this little book without venturing to express a positive opinion either way i will only say with hamlet there are more things in heaven and earth horatio than are dreamt of in your philosophy twenty five ghost stories by w bob holland find out which ghost story has the number one slot out of hundreds of haunting tales michael cox sbilliant and funny interpretations of classic ghost stories such as the body snatchers turn of the screw and the night mail are backed up with fascinating fact sections on ghosts and phantoms ghost hunters and lots more but after all what is a ghost what do we mean by this where do ghosts live and how what do they do with themselves how do they manifest why do they return these are some of the questions which the average man asks himself unless he totally disbelieves in them most men it is true disbelieve in ghosts unless they have had some experience to convince them to the contrary yet after all why should they as mr w t stead once remarked real ghost stories how can there be real ghost stories when there are no real ghosts but are there no real ghosts you may not have seen one but it does not follow that therefore they do not exist how many of us have seen the microbe thirteen short stories by the english supernaturalist demonstrate his mastery at evoking feelings of mysticism and cosmic experience and his skill in creating an atmosphere of unrelied horror this is a superior anthology of truly scary stories here are canada s haunted houses ghosts and poltergeists weird visions of the past and improbable visions of the future and assurances that there is life after death included are more than 175 accounts of such events and experiences told mainly by the witnesses themselves canadians from all walks of life and all parts of the country some of the stories are classics others are little known about one third of the accounts have never before appeared in print this fascinating scary book brings together the most notable stories from the archives of john robert columbo canada s mr mystery who is known for his many paranormal collections including ghost stories of Classic Victorian and Edwardian Ghost Stories 2008

i do not know whether writing ghost stories is a mistake most readers will like a ghost story in which towards the end it is found that the ghost was really a cat or a dog or a mischievous boy such ghost stories are a source of pleasure and are read as a pastime and are often vastly enjoyed because though the reader is a bit afraid of what he does not know still he likes to be assured that ghosts do not in reality exist such ghost stories i have often myself read and enjoyed the last one i read was in the december 1913 number of the english illustrated magazine in that story coincidence follows coincidence in such beautiful succession that a young lady really believes that she sees a ghost and even feels its touch and finally it turns out that it is only a monkey this is bathos that unfortunately goes too far still i am sure english readers love a ghost story of this kind it however cannot be denied that particular incidents do sometimes happen in such a way that they take our breath away here is something to the point twenty years ago near honey grove in texas james ziegland a wealthy young farmer won the hand of metilda tichnor but jilted her a few days before the day fixed for the marriage twenty five ghost stories by w bob holland this collection of ghost stories owes its publication to an interest that i have long felt in the supernatural and in works of the imagination as a child i was deeply concerned in tales of spooks haunted houses wraiths and specters and stories of weird experiences clanking chains ghostly sights and gruesome sounds always held me spellbound and breathless experiences in editorial offices taught me that i was not alone in liking stories of mystery the desire to know something of that existence that is veiled by death is equally potent in old age and in youth and men women and children like to be thrilled and to have a creepy feeling along the spinal column as the result of reading of a visitor from beyond the grave this volume contains the most famous of the weird stories of edgar allan poe that master of this form of literature the black cat contains all the needed element of mystery and supernatural and yet the feline acts in a natural manner all of the time and the story is quite possibly true it is only in the manner of its telling that the tale becomes one that fittingly finds its place in this collection guy de maupassant the clever frenchman is also represented by two effective bits of work and other less widely known writers have also contributed stories that are worth reading and when once read will be remembered there is not a story among the twenty five that is not worthy of close reading there has recently been a revival in interest in ghost stories many of the high class magazines have within a few months printed stories with supernatural incidents and writers whose names are known to all who read have turned their attention to this form of literature whether or not the reader believe in ghosts he cannot fail to be interested in this little book without venturing to express a positive opinion either way i will only say with hamlet there are more things in heaven and earth horatio than are dreamt of in your philosophy twenty five ghost stories by w bob holland
