writing and writing as research the authors offer pedagogical strategies for doctoral supervisors that will writing and or locates the problem in the writer kamler and thomson provide a highly effective framework for scholarly work that is located in personal institutional and cultural contexts the pedagogical approach developed in the book is based on the notion of writing as a social practice this approach allows supervisors to think of doctoral writers as novices who need to learn new ways with words as they enter the discursive practices of scholarly communities this involves learning sophisticated writing practices with specific sets of conventions and textual characteristics the authors offer supervisors practical advice on helping with
