Publisher description

United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL)
Yearbook 2012 2015-12-16

The 2010 volume of Contemporary Issues in International Arbitration and Mediation, The Fordham papers is a collection of important works in the field written by the speakers at the 2010 fordham law school conference on international arbitration and mediation

The reform of commercial law through harmonisation, unification, codification, and other means remains one of the most important projects in developing the institutional architecture for the global economy. This edited collection engages with the challenges and contributes to a greater understanding of the problems faced by states, international organisations, and private sector actors in this ongoing reform project for commercial law. The volume takes stock of the project to date and looks towards a restructuring of the agenda to deal with new challenges. The primary aim of the collection is to understand the future of commercial law reform in a way that offers ideas and strategies for innovation as well as in methodologies for project selection and evaluation. In so doing, the collection informs the debate on the global reform of commercial law and will be of interest not only to academics but also to those involved in the reform of commercial law around the world. The volume collects papers presented at the UK Society of Legal Scholars Annual Seminar 2017.

The practitioner’s handbook on international arbitration and mediation, 3rd edition, is a unique work with each chapter written by a well-known practitioner and expert in the field. It covers each step of the international arbitration and mediation process and offers separate chapters that summarize the laws of leading arbitral venues. This handbook is intended to make the reader into a better practitioner or arbitrator, mediator. Moreover, each chapter has been written to provide practical advice and guidance. Unlike many works with multiple authors, this work is not simply a collection of essays on a general subject. This book is a unified work with cross-references among the chapters and a consistent format throughout. The practitioner’s handbook is divided into three parts: part one describes in detail each step of the international arbitration process and offers tips; part two deals with each step and facet of an international mediation; each of these chapters is filled with practitioners’ expert commentary. Part three summarizes the laws of leading arbitral jurisdictions like Hong Kong, England, Switzerland, and France. These chapters give you detailed guidance on the laws governing international arbitration in that particular jurisdiction. As a result, the chapters in part three are a bit more technical as the authors realized that the reader would need citations to and commentary on the local arbitration statutes and rules. The CD-ROM that accompanies this work contains relevant original source material that is germane to the text. A review of the table of contents...
contents of the material contained on the cd rom will acquaint you with the range of material covered the compendium like an encyclopedia contains entries for most of the foundational principles and concepts underlying arbitration each entry takes a holistic view of international arbitration as they tackle core concepts from both a commercial and an investment arbitration perspective focusing on the fundamental issues underlying the various topics rather than on the solutions adopted in any particular jurisdiction thus making the compendium a truly cross border transnational resource this innovative approach will allow readers to identify the commonalities as well as the differences between commercial and investment arbitration whether and where cross fertilization has taken place and what consequences it can have this approach allows the compendium to be a tool in promoting the creation of a culture of international arbitration that considers commercial arbitration and investment arbitration as part of a whole but with certain distinct features particular to each

the czech yearbooks project for the moment made up of the czech yearbook of international law and the czech central european yearbook of arbitration began with the idea to create an open platform for presenting the development of both legal theory and legal practice in central and eastern europe and the approximation thereof to readers worldwide this platform should serve as an open forum for interested scholars writers and prospective students as well as practitioners for the exchange of different approaches to problems being analyzed by authors from different jurisdictions and therefore providing interesting insight into issues being dealt with differently in many different countries the czech central european yearbook of arbitration the younger twin project within the czech yearbooks primarily focuses on the problematic of arbitration from both the national and international perspective the use of arbitration as a method of dispute resolution continues to increase in importance throughout central and eastern europe arbitration is viewed as being progressive due to its practical aspects and to its meeting the needs of specialists in certain practice areas central and eastern europe the primary but not exclusive focus of this project is steeped in the roman tradition of continental europe in which arbitration is based on the autonomy of the parties and on informal procedures this classical approach is somewhat different from the principles on which the system of arbitration in common law countries is based despite similarities among countries in the region, arbitration in central and eastern Europe represents a highly particularized and fragmented system. One shortcoming in the use of arbitration in central and eastern Europe is the absence of comparative standards or a baseline that would facilitate the identification of commonalities and differences in individual countries and help resolve problems that are common throughout the region. The CYARB project aims to address this issue and provide a forum for comparisons of arbitration practice and doctrine in countries within the region and in relation to practices internationally. It sheds light on both practical and academic aspects within these countries and compares those approaches to broader European and international practices. This project will also foster a broad exchange of legal research and other information on the subject. The third volume of the CYARB focuses on the blurry area which borders the procedural and substantial law. Editors being motivated with an endeavour to provide the readers with complex insight into the problematic invited authors of civil same as common law jurisdictions to provide their insight and analysis on the problems of i.e., mandatory provisions of procedural same as substantive law issues of application of law in arbitration adjudication according to the ex aequo et bono principles. Issues of the burden and standard of proof and others. The issues are presented on highly comparative basis provided mostly by practitioners who are simultaneously involved in academic activities. The book is divided into four sections. The backbone sections encompass the doctrinal articles of the authors same as case law analysis of the domestic courts from the region relating to the topic covering the case law of constitutional general same as arbitral courts of the countries from the central European region. The rest of the book covers the news in the arbitration area same as interesting arbitration events or published articles and books of the authors from the region. The new volume of the Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration, Borders of Procedural and Substantive Law in Arbitral Proceedings, Civil versus Common Law Perspectives brings useful resource for everyone who is dealing with arbitration in all of its aspects, be it an academic practitioner, law or international relations student who seeks global compendium on the issue including an overlap to economic and politic aspects of the problematic.
