the conference on network security and communication engineering is meant to serve as a forum for exchanging new developments and research progress between scholars scientists and engineers all over the world and providing a unique opportunity to exchange information to present the latest results as well as to review the relevant issues on gheorghe păun has played an important role within a wide range of disciplines from the foundations of traditional computation theory and formal language theory to research gaining its inspiration from living nature he has significantly contributed to the development of these diverse fields initiating and pioneering some of them with remarkable imaginativeness and enthusiasm gheorghe păun s research focusses on systems inspired by structures and processes found in living systems with the field of membrane computing or p systems being the most important of his initiatives this festschrift volume published to honor gheorghe păun on the occasion of his 60th birthday includes 16 contributions by his students and collaborators the research presented aims to gain a better understanding of what computation is to find better models of computation and to look for new computing devices inspired by the structure and or functioning of natural or societal systems the papers are preceded by an introduction by solomon marcus gheorghe păun s lifelong teacher and mentor and are organized in topical sections on general computing grammar systems membrane systems and inspirations from natural computing transition elements advances in research and application 2012 edition is a scholarlyeditions ebook that delivers timely authoritative and comprehensive information about transition elements the editors have built transition elements advances in offers an analysis of privacy impacts resulting from and reinforced by technology and discusses fundamental risks and challenges of protecting privacy in the digital age privacy is among the most endangered species in our networked society personal information is processed for various purposes beyond our control ultimately this affects the natural interplay between privacy personal identity and identification this book investigates that interplay from a systemic socio technical perspective by combining research from the social and computer sciences it sheds light on the basic functions of privacy their relation to identity and how they alter with digital identification practices the analysis reveals a general privacy control dilemma of digital identification shaped by several interrelated socio political economic and technical factors uncontrolled increases in the identification modalities inherent to digital technology reinforce this dilemma and benefit surveillance practices thereby complicating the detection of privacy risks and the creation of appropriate safeguards easing this problem requires a novel approach to privacy impact assessment pia and this book proposes an alternative pia framework which at its core comprises a basic typology of personally and technically identifiable information this approach contributes to the theoretical and practical understanding of privacy impacts and thus to the development of more effective protection standards this book will be of much interest to students and
