Bill Thigpen, writer/producer of the #1 daytime TV drama, was so busy watching his career soar that he never noticed his marriage collapse. Nine years later, living alone in Hollywood even without his wife and kids, his life and success are still reasonably sweet. Top of the chart ratings, good-natured casual affairs, and special vacations with his two young sons—his life is in perfect balance. He thinks.

Adrian Townsend thought she had everything—a job she liked as a TV production assistant and a handsome husband who was a rising star in his own field. In an enviable life, they'd worked hard for the American dream until she got pregnant. Suddenly, all she had was chaos and Steven's ultimatum: him or the baby. The question was: did he mean it? He did.

Bill Thigpen and Adrian Townsend collided in a supermarket, and the very sight of her suddenly makes him want more in his life. A woman he really loves. A real family again. But does he need the heartache of another man's baby, another wife? Neither does he. But they couldn't help it. Danielle Steel touches the heartbeat of two wonderful people as their friendship deepens into love as they meet the obstacles that life presents with humor, humanity, and courage.

If you are looking to brush up on your literary knowledge, check a favorite author's work or see a year's bestsellers at a glance, the chronology of American literature is the perfect resource. This book outlines the indispensable information in America's rich literary past from major publications to lesser known gems while also identifying larger trends along the literary timeline. Who wrote the first published book in America? When did Edgar Allan Poe achieve notoriety as a mystery writer? What was Hemingway's breakout title with more than 8,000 works by 5,000 authors? The chronology makes it easy to find answers to these questions and more. Authors and their works are grouped within each year by category: fiction and nonfiction, poems, drama, literary criticism and publishing events. Short concise entries describe an author's major works for a particular year while placing them within the larger context of that writer's career. The result is a fascinating glimpse into the evolution of some of America's most prominent writers. Perhaps most important, the chronology offers an invaluable line through our literary past, telling the American experience war and peace, boom and bust, and reaction to social change. You'll find everything here from Benjamin Franklin's experiments and observations on electricity to Davy Crockett's first memoir from Thoreau's Civil Disobedience to Edith Wharton's Ethan Frome.
meditations by james weldon johnson and james agee to poetry by elizabeth bishop also included here are seminal works by authors such as rachel carson toni morrison john updike and arthur schlesinger jr lavishly illustrated and rounded out with handy bestseller lists throughout the twentieth century lists of literary awards and prizes and authors birth and death dates the chronology of american literature belongs on the shelf of every bibliophile and literary enthusiast it is the essential link to our literary past and present when a beautiful young Frenchwoman and a brilliant American actor meet in wartime Paris, their love begins like a fairy tale but ends in tragedy. Suddenly orphaned, their three children are cruelly separated.

Megan, the baby adopted by a family of comfortable means, becomes a doctor in rural Appalachia. Alexandra, raised in lavish wealth, marries a powerful man whose pride is in his pedigree and who assumes that Alexandra is her parents' natural offspring. Neither of them has the remotest suspicion that she is adopted or what turbulent tragedy lurks in her past. Hilary, the oldest of the Walker children, remembers them all and the grief that tore them apart, feeling the loss throughout her life and unable to find her sisters.

John Chapman, lawyer and prestigious private investigator, is asked to find these three women.
