This comprehensive major reference work is ideal for researchers, policymakers, academicians, librarians, practitioners, instructors, and students. This book brings together public services policy and public services management in a novel way that is likely to resonate with academics, policy makers, and practitioners engaged in the organization of public services delivery as it is from a perspective that challenges many received ideas in this field starting from the perspective of critical management studies. The contributors to this volume embed a critical perspective on policy orthodoxy around critical public services policy and management studies. Previous disparate fields of public services policy and public services management but more importantly debate and present what critical constitutes when applied to public services policy and management. This edited collection presents chapters from a broad range of public services domains including health, education, prisons, local and central government, and deals with a range of contemporary issues facing public services managers. These are examined including regulation of professions, risk management, user involvement, marketing, and leadership value-added. Tax VAT is a mainstay of revenue systems in more than 160 countries because consumption is a more stable revenue base than other tax bases. VAT is less distorting and hence more likely to encourage investment savings. Optimum labor supply decisions and growth VAT is not without criticism however and faces its own specific technical and policy challenges. This book the first to thoroughly evaluate VAT from a global policy perspective after over 50 years of experience with its intricacies offers authoritative perspectives on VAT's full spectrum from its signal successes to the subtle ways its application can undermine revenue performance and economic neutrality. The contributors leading tax practitioners and academics examine the key policy issues and topics that are crucially relevant for measuring the success of the tax in the first part of the book including revenue generation and revenue efficiency. Single rate versus multiple rates susceptibility to fraud, exemptions, and exceptions compliance cost for businesses, policy and compliance gaps in revenue collection adjustment rules caused by the transactional nature of the tax transfer, pricing issues, treatment of vouchers, permanent establishments, and holding companies payment of refunds, cross-border digital transactions, and supplies for free or below cost price. The second part offers six country reports on New Zealand, Japan, China, Colombia, Ethiopia, and India to demonstrate the different ways in which VAT operates in a variety of national economies. Whether a government is contemplating the imposition of a general consumption tax for the first time or new rules for applying an existing one it is important for policymakers to keep central the aim to design a tax that realizes optimal efficiency and causes minimal distortions. This invaluable book serves as an expert guide to VAT policy development in this area it will be welcomed not only by concerned government officials but also by tax professionals both lawyers and accountants and academics in tax law. The Semantic Web 2009-12-15

The annual Asian Semantic Conference is one of the largest regional events in Asia with focused topics related to the semantic with the decade-round endeavor of semantic believers, researchers, and practitioners. The semantic has made remarkable progress recently. It has raised significant attention from us and UK governments as well as the European Commission, who are willing to deploy semantic technologies to enhance the transparency of e-government. The Linked Open Data Initiative is on its way to convert the current document into data and to further enabling various data and service mashups. The fast adoption of semantic technologies in medical and life sciences has created impressive showcases to the world. All these efforts are a crucial step toward enabling the takeoff and the success of the semantic. The first Asian Semantic Conference was successfully held in China in 2006 with the following editions in Korea in 2007 and Thailand in 2008. It fostered a regional forum for connecting researchers and triggering innovations. This year, the 4th Asian Semantic Conference was held in Shanghai, China. We received 63 submissions from Asia, Europe, and North America, and 25 papers were accepted. The acceptance rate is around 40%. Each submission was reviewed by at least three members of the program committee. The chairs moderated the discussion of conflict reviews or invited external reviewers to reach the final decisions.

This book assesses the attempt to establish a modern system of democratic government in Thailand against the background of Thai politics and culture. The fact that since 1932 when it became a constitutional monarchy, Thailand has had 18 constitutions, speaks of an unstable political system which has seen rapid and repeated fluctuations between military rule and elected government. The main focus of this study is a critical discussion of the institutional frameworks which have been established under recent constitutions. Individual chapters deal with Thai history and context, including the role of the monarchy and the military and of constitutional drafting processes, parliament and elections, the executive branch of government including the role of ministers, the civil service of a contracting state, and anti-corruption initiatives, the structure and challenges of local government, including discussion of the southern insurgency, the constitutional court and constitutional enforcement, the constitutional role of administrative law, and of the administrative courts. The constitutional protection of human rights with freedom of speech as a particular case study.

This book documents important milestones in the epic journey traversed by the Central Bank of Kenya over the last 50 years, putting into perspective the evolution of central banking globally and within the East African region and contemplating future prospects and challenges. The book is timely mainly because the global financial landscape has shifted central bankers have expanded their mandates beyond the singular focus on inflation and consider economic growth as their other important objective. Financial crises have continued to disrupt the functioning of financial institutions and markets, the most devastating episodes being the global financial crisis which broke out in 2008 and... from which the global financial system has not fully recovered and the unprecedented challenges posed by the global coronavirus pandemic bank regulation has moved from basel i to basel ii and somehow migrated to basel iii although some countries are still at the cross roads the book originated from the wide ranging discussions on central banking from a symposium to celebrate the 50 year anniversary on 13 september 2016 in nairobi the participants at the symposium included current and former central bank governors from kenya and the eastern africa region high level officials from multilateral financial institutions policy makers bank executives civil society actors researchers and students the book is an invaluable resource for policy makers practitioners and researchers on how monetary policy and financial practices in vogue today in kenya have evolved through time and worked very well but also about some pitfalls the school of thought surrounding the urban ecosystem has increasingly become in vogue among researchers worldwide since half of the world s population lives in cities urban ecosystem services have become essential to human health and wellbeing. Rapid urban growth has forced sustainable urban developers to rethink important steps by updating and to some degree recreating the human ecosystem service linkage assessing as well as estimating the losses of ecosystem services can denote the essential effects of urbanization and increasingly indicate where cities fall short. This book contains 13 thoroughly refereed contributions published within the special issue "Urban Ecosystem Services". The book addresses topics such as nature-based solutions, green space planning, green infrastructure, rain gardens, climate change, and more. The contributions highlight new findings for landscape architects, urban planners, and policymakers. Important future cities research is considered by looking at the system connectivity between the social and ecological sphere via varying forms of urban planning management and governance. The book is supported by methods and models that utilize an urban sustainability and ecosystem service centric focus by adding knowledge base and real-world solutions into the urbanization phenomenon.

50 Years of Central Banking in Kenya 2021

Interest in financial services marketing has grown hugely over the last few decades, particularly since the financial crisis which scarred the industry and its relationship with customers. It reflects the importance of the financial services industry to the economies of every nation and the realization that the consumption and marketing of financial services differs from that of tangible goods and indeed many other intangible services. This book is therefore a timely and much-needed comprehensive compendium that reflects the development and maturation of the research domain and pulls together in a single volume the current state of thinking and debate. The events associated with the financial crisis have highlighted that there is a need for banks and other financial institutions to understand how to rebuild trust and confidence, improve relationships, and derive value from the marketing process. Edited by an international team of experts, this book will provide the latest thinking on how to manage such challenges and will be vital reading for students and lecturers in financial services marketing, policy-makers, and practitioners.

The new public service serving not steering provides a framework for the many voices calling for the reaffirmation of democratic values, citizenship, and service in the public interest. It is organized around a set of seven core principles: 1. Serve citizens, not customers. 2. Seek the public interest. 3. Value citizenship and public service above entrepreneurship. 4. Think strategically and act democratically. 5. Recognize that accountability isn’t simple. 6. Serve rather than steer. 7. Value people, not just productivity. The new public service asks us to think carefully and critically about what public service is why it is important and what values ought to guide what we do and how we do it.
