in 2004, Kevin Roberts wrote 'Lovemarks: The Future Beyond Brands.' It was admired by many as a breakthrough in marketing thinking but was also controversial because of its surprisingly obvious thesis that emotional connections are at the heart of sustained relationships between producers, retailers, and consumers while many companies were using the language of war in their marketing. Roberts was using the language of love, mystery, sensuality, and intimacy. He explained in simple terms what people are often loath to admit: We make decisions with our emotions over our reason. Lovemarks described the journey by which brands could move from consumer respect based on intellect to consumer love based on emotion. In return, gain loyalty beyond reason. In 2010, Advertising Age magazine named Lovemarks one of their ideas of the decade while noting that the roadmap for brands to achieve Lovemark status was still not entirely clear. Lovemarks shows that Lovemarks thinking works anywhere, anytime. It takes having the brains to implement it, the guts to see it through, and an abiding faith in emotion as your compass. Says Brian Sheehan.
